E-telligents

Web Developer

July 2009
–present
I am the lead web designer for the E-telligents Electronic Health Records application, cEHR. I create and mark-up all the interface elements needed for the application. My focus is on usability, as well as aesthetics. In addition, I contribute to the Ruby on Rails back-end which is under active development. e-telligents.com
